- Personal Reviews are also available for staff, with the Headteacher at staff's own request

- Make sure accountability systems are based on trust and professional dialogue, with proportionate amounts of direct monitoring

- Organise extra support during times of stress, such as Ofsted inspections
- Provide and Annual Workload Audit, using the EEF model to evaluate the impact of workload and time efficiency. Additionally, take this into consideration when there is a significant increase or change to policy and practice or expectation of staff

2.4 Role of the Governing Body

The Wellbeing Link Governor is Peter Ward

The governing body is expected to:

- Make sure the school is fulfilling its duty of care as an employer, such as by giving staff a reasonable workload and creating a supportive work environment

- Ensure that resources and support services are in place to promote staff wellbeing
- Make decisions and review policies with staff wellbeing in mind, particularly in regards to workload
- Be reasonable about the format and quantity of information asked for from staff as part of monitoring work
- Ensure that staff are clear about the purpose of any monitoring visits and what information will be required from them

3. Managing Specific Wellbeing Issues

The school will support and discuss options with any staff that raise wellbeing issues, such as if they are experiencing significant stress at school or in their personal lives.

Where possible, support will be given by line managers or senior staff. This could be through:

- Giving staff time off to deal with a personal crisis
- Arranging external support, such as counselling or occupational health services
- Completing a risk assessment and following through with any actions identified
- Reassessing their workload and deciding what tasks to prioritise

At all times, the confidentiality and dignity of staff will be maintained.

4. Monitoring Arrangements

This policy will be reviewed every year, by the Staff Wellbeing Lead.

At every review, it will be approved by the Headteacher and shared with staff.
